Thanks to Chesty for this Trash – I (£oo$e C$hang€) missed this one, as I thought I was getting a chesty (cold) but thankfully it must have only been man flu.

Hashtoberfest

Most of the Harriettes dressed up for the Octoberfest theme - with faux leather shorts & braces on some men and several buxom blouses on the ladies, plus lots of German themed T-shirts, long socks & silly hats. Most of the AH3 attendees didn't read that memo. (Did we get that memo? – Ed)

Chesty was the sole AH3 runner & he had trouble keeping up with the 4 running Harriettes - everyone else walked.

Chesty failed again to map the run so the run map below was provided by the hare McTaf.

(There are no rules in hash Chesty, so it's impossible to fail – Ed)

The run was a suitably short length and had a couple of extra loops to the walk, which meant that the runners had to run through the walkers several times.

Both run & walk looped around Wynn Vale dam and then through the hilly suburbs and back across the dam to McTaf's welcome drink stop for a Port & lemonade.

The trail was well marked and numerous easy checks kept the tiny running pack together well.

Luckily the runners reached the drink stop first and were in & out before being swamped by the walkers.

Back at the Octoberfest tent (the hares' long carport decorated gaily for the occasion) snacks & drinks (beers & many wines) were consumed by happy hashers sitting or standing around the very long festive table.

Betty Boop slaved away in the kitchen assisted by Crunchy & McTaf and produced a great feast of 3 types of German sausages with lots of extras followed later by Bavarian ice cream cake for dessert.

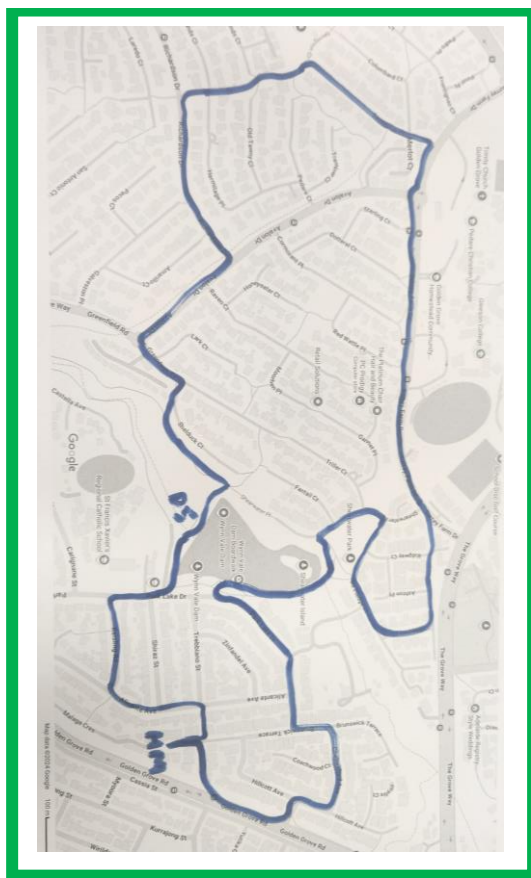

A short circle was run by RAs Eunick & Unstoppable who punished the usual sinners appropriately and rewarded a few saints with free drinks.
(A short circle? What is that?? – Ed)

Crunchy advertised her 40th birthday run next week (wear a onesie). The rest is a blur.

Thanks Hares for a great evening. Cheers Chesty
