You lot better appreciate this new template, as it literally (not figuratively) took me HOURS. I hate computers!!!!

So, now that I've been on this thing for so long designing this that (in theory) is going to take me less time each week to input all the boring details, the actual report is going to be as short as I can possibly make it. I'm hungry and grumpy.

Besides, hopefully I'll see many of you tomorrow at the City to Bay. 16 degrees for a top temperature....Brrrr.

 Baxter cannot make the C2B unfortunately. I know it's too late notice now, but he offered his registration to anyone who would like to do the 12km run ****

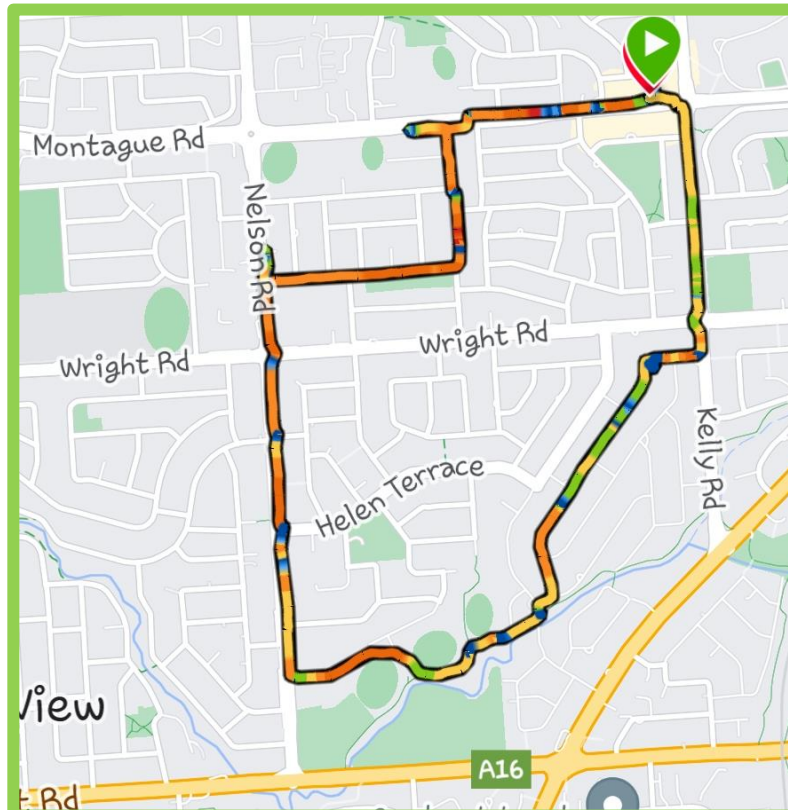

On with the report from last Monday...

So we all gathered in the beer garden of the newly renovated (well, new to me anyway) Clovey Hotel.

Where was our Hare??? Fk. 🍑

We thought that maybe it was going to be a live trail, seeing as Olive was still out setting it. In she meandered. The runners completely ignored her BOS, and ran off as she was telling the walkers to make their own way to her house for a drink stop.

Map:
Approx 5.66 Kms

The run was mostly downhill.....Until it wasn't. Then we certainly earned that drink stop!

Nifty decided to take a short cut, which ended up being a long cut, due to all the dead-end streets and construction sites he wasn't expecting.

The meals were devoured and the circle was short (yay) as we were cold.
