Run Details	Run Report – Arthur Street Plympton Park Hare – Who Gives 13 runners & 1 dog		Unfair and subjective Run Score
9 April 2024 Run 2535	With the BOM following firm instructions that there would be no rain during Gather Round, there was a truckload of rain to be unleashed on Monday. As BOM staff scoured the maps they found a quaint little area to let loose a few rainclouds, right over the Morphetville Racecourse, confident in the knowledge that most people who lived there (particularly one) wouldn't give a fcuk! As expected, an eager pack gathered at the hare's abode and were soon instructed that there may be some SLIGHT issues in finding trail! There was generally minimal concern, however, as we were told that Buddha had been a consultant to the run and had actually provided the flour for the trail. After a couple of minutes of running it soon became clear that Buddha's patented, water-proof flour may not have been all it was marketed to be! After several minutes checking by the railway line, we were relieved to be assisted by a "good samaritan." This helpful fellow on a push-bike helped us to find trail, and soon had us jogging alongside the train tracks in the direction of the racecourse. It turns out this helpful fellow was a Ukrainian refugee, who went by the name of Hugh Givzafack. Apparently he had been badly injured in the conflict, resulting in an unlikely combination of right knee replacement and left hip replacement for which he had been prescribed plenty of exercise, complemented by regular liquid painkiller. 	6

As the pack followed the wobbling push-bike, the more observant noted that the unique combination of injuries led to the bike steering in an anticlockwise direction, following a route that seemed eerily familiar. Being a helpful fellow, the samaritan stopped from time to time to ensure that Elf had a chance to keep up, that Loose Change had a chance to enjoy some false trails, and Ninja had a chance to check out the unique aromas of Plympton Park.

Having taken us on a full anticlockwise loop, the good samaritan finally pointed us in the direction of Arthur Street, and quietly wobbled off into the distance, as the right knee and left hip battled for supremacy to the tune of "Putin's a cunt but who gives a fuck."

Back at the run site the walkers were happy to be back within the hour, with none of the walkers in sight. Accordingly they proceeded to demolish the cheese platter, while quietly singing, "the walkers are cunts but who gives a fuck"!

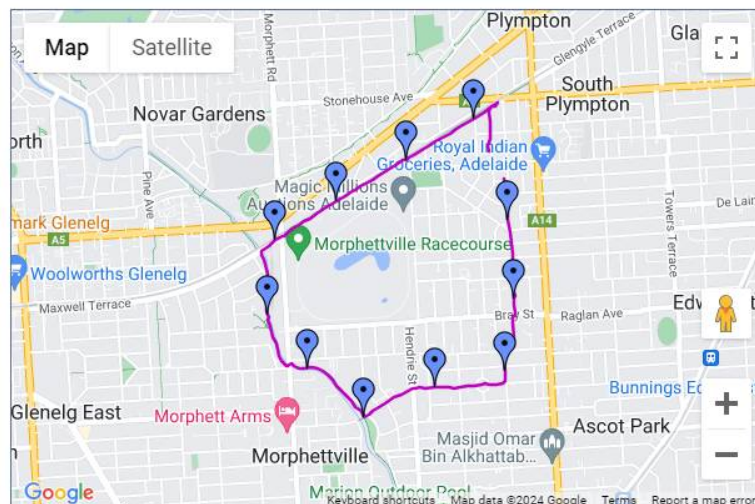

With the walkers finally reappearing from the flooded wetlands, the (45th and greatest ever) GM called the circle and proceeded to charge all and sundry.

With the circle done and dusted, and a rendition of "Hasher is Smarter", we were all relieved to discover that there was one resident of Plympton Park who actually does give a fuck, when She Does proceeded to treat us to a delicious serve of Japanese Curry Chicken, complemented by Red Wine Risotto and white rice.

Many thanks to the hare (and co-hare(s)) for a most pleasant evening, despite the best efforts of the BOM!
